Probability That Board of Visitors Will Be Ignored.

COPY OF PAPER NOT YET FILED

Board Yesterday Decided to Hold Open Investigation With Secretary Hitchcock Present.

The statement was made on good author fty this afternoon that Representative Frank Clark of Florida will tomorrow introduce in the House a resolution calling for an investigation of the government hospital for the insane. It will be provided that a committee of five representatives be appointed to conduct the inquiry. It is also understood that Mr. Clark will ask for the Immediate consideration of the resolution In order that there may be no delay in beginning the investigation.

It was his intention to have introduced the resolution today, but he was unable to do so because of the shortness of the session. This is taken to mean that the proposed investigation by the board of visitors would not have been satisfactory to some of those interested in the inquiry. It was stated today that the charges of crucky and the use of straightjackets and other methods for the physical restraint of the inmates of the insane hospital were but secondary considerations. That the main issue is the matter of alleged mismanagement and excessive expenditures.

Statement by Dr. Emmons. In this connection it has been said by Dr. Charles M. Emmons of the Medico-Legal Boclety

"An examination of the per capita tables pf seventy-nine insane asylums, which inplude those in almost every state of the Union, shows that the Government Hospital for the Insane in the District of Columbia heads the list as to the cost of management; that it stands number twenty-seven In the column of recoveries and number five as having the highest death rate.
"It appears also from the table of com parison that the institutions having a small number of inmates cost the state a greater per capita than those of large population; for instance, Dannemora State Asylum. New York, cost the state $202.80 per capita and has only 200 patients, while Ward's Island Asylum, in the same state, with 4,366 patients, cost the state but $167.71. We note that the average per capita cost for the twelve asylums of New York shows it to be $190. The average per capita cost for the five insane asylums of the state of Ohio is $101.04. The three Virginia insane asylums average $104 per capita, and when we consider that this state has the same cumate and markets as our local institution at St. Elizabeth's we see no reason for the at St. Elizabeth's we see no reason for the per capita cost of $220 as against $104 for the state asylums of Virginia. In the face of these comparisons the per capita cost of the Government Hospital for the Insane should never exceed $200 per capita; anything in excess of this amount is needed.

by the board. Developments today, however, seem to indicate that the Medico-Legal Society officers have no intention of officially filing the charges with the board of visitors. It is reported to be their purpose to either ask for an investigation by a congressional ugh investigation of the charges against that institution by a commit-committee or by the grand jury.

An officer of the society this forenoon gave color to this report by stating to a Star reporter that no decision had been reached to present the matter to the board of visitors. Another individual, who is of visitors. Another individual, matter, faking considerable interest in the matter, remarked that to ask the board to investigement and another individual practically be ask-gate the charges would practically be asking it to investigate its own lack of supervision over the conduct of the Hospital for the Insane.

It is contended, on the other hand, that the board of visiters has more than met this contention by its declaration at the meeting yesterday afternoon to hold an inmeeting vesterday afternoon to hold an in-qury with open doors and to court the ut-most publicity. At this inquiry it is pro-posed that witnesses will be rigidly exam-ined, both sides to the controversy being represented. At such an investigation, it was added, it will be impossible for the board to do any "whitewashing," even it it were so inclined. It is pointed out that the high standing and problems. the high standing and problty of the members of the visiting board is a guarantee that the inquiry will be impartial and thorough, and any imputation to the contrary would be promptly resented.

Request for Information.

At the session of the board of visitors yesterday the decision was reached, it is said, to call upon the committee of the Medico-Legal Society which conducted the investigation into the alleged abuses at the insane asylum to furnish its sources of information and furnish a list of its witnesses. These investigators on the part of the society are Dr. Charles M. Emmons and Richard P. Evans, an attorney-at-law.

Dr. Gunnell, president of the board of visitors, announced that another meeting of that body will be called as soon us he received a copy of the charges. It is said the report of the committee of the Medico-Legal Society containing the charges has been printed and is ready for issuance, but whether the society will officially send a copy to the board remains to be seen. Should a copy or copies be so sent it is said the board would take such action to mean that formal charges had been filed with it against the institution and would at once begin the investigation, which it is proposed to be held at the asylum with open

Dr. Gunnell, president of the board of visitors, expressed surprise at the evident seriousness of the charges. He said he had seriousness of the charges. He said he had conferred with Secretary of the Interior Hitchcock, whose department has immediate supervision over the Government Hospital for the Insane, and as a result of the conference the decision was reached to have a searching inquiry made into the affairs of the institution.

Will Be a Rigid Inquiry.

'Charges of this character," said Dr. Gunnell, "are not infrequent at such institutions. But there will be a rigid inquiry, and Secretary Hitchcock will attend the meetings."

Dr. Reyburn, president of the Medico-Legal Society, declared that he indorsed the charges and knew of several specific instances which he would testify to at the instances which he would testify to at the proper time.

Dr. Emmons and Attorney Evans, who signed the charges, say they are prepared to give proof of every assertion made. Among the matters to be looked into during the investigation is the case of an aged woman and her daughter. Mrs. Carolina and Cornelia L. Corbett, formerly well-to-do persons of Alexandria, where the woman's husband died about eight years ago. Attorneys for these inmates recently attempted to secure their release on the ground that they were not insane, but had been sent there for keeping, being destitute.

More Restriction of Immigration.

Frank P. Sargent, commissioner general of immigration, today presented his views in favor of added restrictions to immigration before the House committee on immigration and naturalization. Mr. Sargent favored forbidding entrance to the country to feeble-minded and imbecile immigrants, and believed the possession of some fixed an ount of money should also be a requirement. No action was taken by the committee

RESUMED AT SAVANNAH TODAY -CONTRACT TESTIMONY.

SAVANNAH, Ga., February 20.-The sick juror in the Greene and Gaynor case was sufficiently recovered today so that the case could proceed. E. R. Conant conclude: BY MEDICO-LEGAL SOCIETY his testimony, and what he told was not without interest. He said that while he was inspecting the work done by Greene and Gaynor on the Cumberland sound contract he had never seen a mattress of the first, second or third design that was put in according to specifications.

The witness was asked if he had not had fight with Contractor A. J. Twiggs, near Augusta, while he was inspecting for the government the work that was being done by Twiggs. He answered that Twiggs had struck hlm. The court interrupted to state that he considered this irrelevant, as the witness had probably replied with a blow if Twiggs had struck him. "We will show the contrary," said Mr. Osborne of counse! for the defense. "Did you strike back, Mr.

"No, I was there on business for the government and withdrew from the difficulty, said Mr. Conant. "Captain Twiggs later apologized. Mr. Twiggs succeeded Mr. Conant on the stand and described the work that had been lone on the contract at Augusta. Twiggs said he came to Savannah in September, 1801, and saw John F. Gaynor at one of the hotels. He said Gaynor told him he understood Twiggs was going to bid on the contract and suggested that they might come to terms.

Gaynor said he thought Greene and Gaynor ought to have all the work in the district and agreed to take all stone required from quarries near Augusta owned by Twiggs. He paid Twiggs $500 bonus. If Twigg were eliminated, Gaynor told him, he said, then there would be no other bidder than Greene and Gaynor. According to Twiggs the following conversation en-

"You are mistaken," said Triwws, "Dem-ing of Augusta, intends to bid." How Gaynor Fixed It.

"Are you sure?" asked Gaynor. The witness said he was sure, whereupon Gaynor rang for a messenger and penciled a note, saying he would fix that. There upon he sent the note, and in a short time the messenger returned with a reply. This Gaynor read, appeared satisfied, said "there will be no other bids," and tore the reply into small bits.

District Attorney Erwin told Mr. Twiggs to tell how he was oppressed by Carter in the carrying out of the contract of Augusta. At this period the defense objected and for an hour the question was argued.

an hour the question was argued.

The district attorney insisted in his argument that Twiggs was merely a means to an end and that the conspiracy itself was set forth in the indictment with sufficient fullness. He said he proposed later to show the oppression upon Venable Bros. of Atlanta, upon whom the defendants and Cartesian and Cart ter worked a most iniquitous scheme.

Mr. Osborne and Col. Meldrim for the defense and the district attorney and Judge Adams for the government all took part in the argument, which had not been concluded when court adjourned until to-

GRAECO-ROUMANIAN TROUBLE. Difference Over Alleged Ill-Treatment

of Greeks in Roumania.

BUCHAREST, Roumania, February 20 .-The Graeco-Roumanian differences due to the alleged fil-treatment of Greeks in Roumania have been further complicated thing in excess of this amount is need ess.

The board of visitors of the Government Hospital for the Insane, at its meeting yesterday afternoon, decided to begin a spears that while accompanying a compatriot, who was embarking on a steamer under order of expulsion, M. Kapsambelis tee of the Medico-Legal Society as soon as the formal printed allegations are received publicly voiced his resentment in a manner so insulting to the Roumanian government that the latter had no choice but to demand his departure from the country.

The trouble between Greece and Rou-mania is due to the fact that the Sultan of Turkey in May, 1905, issued an irade offurkey in May, 1905, issued an irade of-ficially recognizing the Roumanian or Kutzo-Vlach element in Macedonia. This caused irritation among the Greeks, who boycotted those employing the Roumanian language in church services. The excite-ment thus aroused in Macedonia led to re-prisals against the Greeks in Roumania.
